

Dear Administrator/Director,

Are you interested in advancing your coordinators knowledge in the donation and transplantation community? If so, NATCO, the Organization for Transplant Professionals is the organization for your staff!

NATCO promotes and enhances the relationship between donation and transplantation by uniting practitioners together to learn cutting-edge skills and collaborate with colleagues from all areas of their profession. NATCO offers valuable assistance to you to help make your organization a leader in donation and transplantation. NATCO's mission: We lead the donation and transplantation community by uniting members, advancing education and promoting research and advocacy. Our mission can assist your employees and organization achieve greater success in the field of donation and transplantation by improving their skills and gaining experience through the sharing of knowledge and best practices with other donation and transplant professionals. Well educated employees, who understand the donation and transplantation process deliver better care and are less likely to make mistakes.

Benefits to your employees would include:

1. Opportunity to network with other coordinators across the country through various mechanisms. Free/Reduced rates on Continuing Education opportunities for members.
2. Opportunities for sharing research through case studies, abstracts and grant writing
3. Education and support for Hospital Development and Family Services.
4. Core competencies for Transplant and Procurement Coordinators, Family Services and Advanced Practice Transplant Professional.
5. Collaboration with other health care professionals in similar fields of practice.
6. Access to multidisciplinary peer-reviewed journal, Progress in Transplantation.

NATCO's members can use their access to a national network of colleagues to contribute to their organizations. Members experience personal and professional growth when they engage with NATCO's programs and professionals in the transplant community. Engaged employees are more committed to delivering on organizational goals and standards.

Our members are proud to participate in support systems with professionals they trust; we encourage your coordinators and staff to join THEIR national organization, NATCO, The Organization for Transplant Professionals.

I encourage you to visit the NATCO website for more information at www.natco1.org or your staff may join today online by visiting:

<https://natcomember.goamp.com/net/natcowcm/Events/List/Core/Events/eventdetails.aspx?iKey=JOINNATCO&TemplateType=A>.

Sincerely,

Craig Myrick, RN, CPTC
President