

Dear Colleague,

Are you interested in advancing your knowledge in the donation and transplantation community? If so, NATCO, the Organization for Transplant Professionals is the organization for you!

NATCO is a professional organization that's committed to the advancement of organ, eye and tissue donation and transplantation. The organization promotes and enhances the relationship between donation and transplantation. Transplant and procurement practitioners join together to learn cutting-edge skills and collaborate with colleagues from all areas of their profession. Members improve their skills and gain experience through the sharing of knowledge and best practices with other donation and transplantation professionals. In these fast changing times, we are always striving to overcome the challenges that the profession faces; join like-minded individuals who can inspire and energize one another to make a difference. NATCO focuses on supporting donation and transplant professionals throughout their career by providing educational and professional development opportunities. All of NATCO's opportunities are aligned with our mission: We lead the donation and transplantation community by uniting members, advancing education and promoting research and advocacy.

As a NATCO member you will be able to benefit from an extensive range of training and educational resources at discounted rates geared specifically to transplant/procurement professional in every discipline and level of transplantation and donation from entry level to administration, including national conferences and online education. Perhaps more importantly, you will also benefit from networking with transplant and procurement professionals to enhance your professional development and apply in your practice what you learn from others through electronic communication, face-to-face workshops, meetings, and through volunteer participation on NATCO committees. You will also be able to access scientific information, delivered to you through NATCO's publications and web site as well as conduct research, provide and obtain mentorship that will help to enhance professional development of the less experienced colleagues, and many more opportunities. The full range of benefits can be found by visiting www.natco1.org.

Transplant and procurement professionals from around the world have the opportunity to share best practices, experiences and ideas as well as pursue continuing education. NATCO is adding and enhancing benefits every day providing its members with a positive experience that will help build your professional career.

Our members are proud to participate in a support system with professionals that they trust. We encourage you to join YOUR professional organization NATCO, The Organization for Transplant Professionals. We urge you to join today!

Please visit the NATCO website for more information at www.natco1.org or you may join today online by visiting:
<https://natcomember.goamp.com/net/natcowcm/Events/List/Core/Events/eventdetails.aspx?iKey=JOINNATCO&TemplateType=A>

Sincerely,

Craig Myrick, RN, CPTC
President