Hospital Services Coordinator

Gift of Life Donor Program, the non-profit agency serving eastern Pennsylvania, southern New Jersey and Delaware, is responsible for recovering and distributing organ and tissues used in life-saving and life-enhancing transplants.

This is an exceptional opportunity for a health care educator, marketing, or sales professional to partner with hospital staff in fostering collaborative efforts to achieve the Gift of Life Donor Program mission.

You will develop and coordinate marketing and educational programs aimed at promoting and increasing organ and tissue donation within area hospitals; Maintain hospital referral base and implement strategies aimed at improving performance outcomes in organ and tissue donation; Sustain relationships with physicians and nurses and initiate changes in practice to increase organ and tissue donation in assigned portfolio; Perform quantitative and qualitative analysis of hospital market to characterize donor potential and identify decision makers who can influence hospital protocols; and establish multi-disciplinary councils to develop standards of practices that will optimize outcomes.

Bachelor degree in business, education, or a health care related field required. Clinical experience preferred. Successful candidates will possess a record of success in sales and marketing, customer service and public speaking.

You must be able to organize and coordinate multiple projects and calendars of multiple individuals, and plan for contingencies in a fast paced environment. Critical thinking and ability to work independently are necessary.

We offer an outstanding compensation and benefits package, including medical, drug and dental insurances, as well as tuition assistance and a 403(b) savings plan.
