Position
Join one of the nation’s top performing Organ Procurement Organizations (OPO) with a longstanding reputation for quality and excellence! The Boston Globe awarded us with a ‘Top Place to Work’ award in both 2014 & 2015. Serving a region with world-renowned teaching hospitals, New England Organ Bank (NEOB) has been a leader in donation and transplant for over 45 years. That tradition continues today as we lead the nation in donation after cardiac death (DCD), as well as being the world’s foremost recovery agency on vascular composite allografts (VCA) such as face, hand and arm transplants.

As a Donation Coordinator you will respond on-site to organ donor referrals to provide clinical expertise in donor evaluation, donor management, organ allocation and organ recovery. You will blend high level clinical and people skills to educate hospital staff on the donation process, work with donor families to obtain consent for donation and work with multiple surgical teams and critical care staff to optimize organs and tissues for transplantation. Success in this role requires a self-assured professional who has keen clinical assessment skills, the ability to be flexible and remain calm and effective in highly charged and clinically complex situations.

Schedule
Orientation: 24 hour on-call shifts. Orientees average 13 shifts per month + trainings + meetings. Significant travel with personal vehicle throughout all of New England is expected. Mileage and other reimbursements available.

Independent: 24 hour on-call shifts. Expect 10 shifts per month + 2 hospital development days + trainings + meetings. Significant travel with personal vehicle throughout all of New England is expected. Mileage and other reimbursements available.
